HOW IS IT !

I see in the Baptist Almanac for 1892 a sketch of the word, and it warms and life of Rev. Thomas Stradley written by T. E. Skinner, from which I quote the following:

"He was truly the missionary of the mountains. Hecar ried the gospel through twen ty countles west of the Blue Ridge, and the growth and influence of the Baptists of Western North Carolina have hunt him up and tell him of arisen from the foundation it. Will Dr. Skinner he kind enough to give us the names of the other four counties in North Carolina, west of the Blue Ridge through which Rev. Thomas Stradley carried the gospel?

I quote again from the same article:

"Asheville, with its few huts there, has grown to a city, with a population and trade superior to any mountain town in America, with so great an elevation above the sea, nearly 2,300 feet."

Are there not more than a At 11:30 Mr. Misenheimer dozen cities of America with a trade, population and elevaiton far surpassing that of Asheville?-J. F. SPAINHOUR, in Biblical Recorder.
